Schedule A

Evaluation of a Heritage Resource for Designation

Name of the Site: Hudson Bay Warehouse
Built: 1945
Location: Lot 1, Block 2 (#3501 Wiley Road)

The Hudson Bay Warehouse (Lot 1, Block 2 - #3501 Wiley Road) has been evaluation in accordance to the criteria approved by Council Motion No. (adopted on February 1988). On the basis of this evaluation, the City of Yellowknife Heritage Committee is recommending that the Hudson Bay Warehouse property be designated a Heritage Resource in the City of Yellowknife. The rationale is based on:

1. The Hudson Bay company is the oldest and, historically, single most important commercial operation in northern Canada. The "Bay's" association with Yellowknife dates back to the City's founding and the opening of the Bay Store in the fall of 1938. After fire destroyed the first building, the Hudson Bay began construction of a larger store and warehouse on the site identified above. The new store, which was officially opened in August of 1945, remains remarkably unchanged and is one of Yellowknife's finest examples of an early retail and warehouse operation.
2. The building is attractive, in good condition and is currently being rehabilitated. The owner has made an effort to retain original doors, windows and interior layout. Of special interest are the painted floors of the warehouse indicating where specific supplies were stored, and the original cold storage room, both of which have been retained.
3. The site is also significant because of its prominent location in Oldtown, directly across from the Canadian Pacific Float Base and a few lots removed from the Wildcat Cafe, both of which were designated as Yellowknife Heritage Resources in 1992.
4. The building is large and structurally sound. It can be easily subdivided without detracting from its heritage significance, making it suitable for a number of uses including retail, commercial and residential.
